About Me:

I desire to glorify the Lord by loving and being loved by others. I desire to be part of a vibrant community of believers who cherish Christ and each other. Music has been a big part of my life and I desire to use my gifts to serve him.

I love teamwork and team building. Music ministry takes a full team of people, with a variety of gifts, to come together and work toward the same goal. Its important to help others develop as part of a team. I enjoy mentoring younger leaders to grow in their leadership and giving them opportunities to put their leadership into practice.

Biblical worship is gospel-saturated. I love studying the Bible and learning how to apply it to my own life. I enjoy getting in-depth into books and learning what the author was trying to communicate to his original audience. Understanding the Bible in its historical context is important for proper interpretation so that I can correctly apply the Bible to my own life.
